

Call for Application - Antall József Summer School 2017

3-14 July 2017

Organised by the Antall József Knowledge Centre, the Antall József Summer School is a two-week educational programme putting under scrutiny the most pivotal cooperation of the Central European region, the Visegrad Cooperation. Many aspects of this special partnership are examined throughout the school including history, economy policy, energy policy, innovation, foreign and security policy, culture and tourism, and the question of sustainability via lectures, workshops, debates, and roundtable discussions.

With 2017 marking several anniversaries revolving around the European Union, the fifth instalment of the Summer School will focus on evaluating the role of the Visegrad Countries within the European Union.

Beyond the transmission of knowledge, our aim is to enhance intercultural dialogue. For this reason, we organise various trips and programmes including the Visegrád trip, Sightseeing in Budapest, a casual wine tasting at Kopaszi Dam and Bay, the Multicultural Evening, a visit to the House of Terror Museum.
